

1 The Walker River Irrigation District (the “District”) objects to the Proposed Summary
2 of Proceedings of the Status Conference conducted on August 22, 2012 (the “Proposed 3 Summary”). Doc. 1745. The District objects to the paragraph on page 7 of the Proposed 4 Summary, which is in bold face type. During the Status Conference, the Court requested that 5 the United States include in the Proposed Summary information from previously entered orders 6 which identify the categories of water right holders who were to be defendants in 7 Subproceeding C-125-B and in Subproceeding C-125-C. The clear purpose of the request was 8 to aid the Court in understanding the categories of defendants in the two subproceedings, and 9 the differences between the two. The Court requested a reference to the prior orders which 10 identified the categories of defendants in each case.
11

12 Although counsel for the District considered it unusual to include that information in 13 what was to be a summary of the Status Conference itself, counsel did not suggest a different
14 alternative because the Court’s request could be satisfied easily by references to and quotes
15 from the relevant orders. The United States, Mineral County and the Walker Lake Working 16 Group apparently collaborated on what to include in the Proposed Summary. See Doc. 1745 at 17 6.

19 The District has two objections to the paragraph in bold face type on page 7. First, the 20 information provided therein was not called for or requested by the Court. If the Court had 21 requested information on how persons and entities within the categories of defendants were 22 identified, and whether there was consensus among all parties as to the content of a list of 23 persons and entities identified, then that information would have been required not just for 24 subproceeding C-125-C, but also for subproceeding C-125-B. Moreover, given the multi-25 decade history of these two subproceedings, the Court would not have expected such 26 information to be provided in a Proposed Summary of a Status Conference which was intended 27
28

1 to be prepared by just one party. Second, because the information provided is incomplete, it is 2 not accurate.

3 If the Court desires a complete summary of what occurred before the Order entered 4 October 24, 1997 (C-Doc. 156), and what occurred after the entry of the May 13, 1998 Order
5 (C-Doc. 196) with respect to the list of persons and entities to be served in subproceeding C-6 125-C, the District will take the time and expend the resources necessary to prepare and 7 provide that information to the Court. However, counsel for the District does not believe that 8 that information is necessary at this time, and, in fact, it may never be necessary.
