II. At its September 1991 session, the Judicial Conference amended its maximum page and copy rates for transcripts sold to authorize the sale of transcripts on computer diskettes at the same maximum rates authorized for paper transcripts. The maximum rates per page set forth in ¶I. above shall apply to the sale of diskettes provided as follows:

- A. Transcripts may be sold in computer diskette form in ASCII format, or other format requested by the ordering party and agreed to by the court reporter or transcriber, whether they represent originals, first copies, or additional copies.
- B. No additional charge is permitted for the cost of the diskette itself.
- C. Each page of transcript sold on diskettes must be formatted consistent with the Judicial Conference's approved transcript format guidelines, and diskettes may not contain any protection or programming codes that would prevent copying or transferring the data.
- D. The transcript copy filed with the clerk of court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 753(b) must be on paper; diskettes may be sold only if a paper copy is produced, certified and filed with the clerk of court for the records of the court; and transcripts sold on diskettes must be identical to the paper transcripts filed with the clerk of court.
- E. Court reporters and transcribers who have Computer Assisted Transcript (CAT) or suitable word processing equipment are encouraged to provide diskettes of transcripts to parties upon request, but court reporters and transcribers who do not have CAT or suitable word processing equipment are not required to provide diskettes of transcripts to parties.
- F. Court reporters and transcribers must continue to produce paper originals and paper copies at the Judicial Conference rates when ordered by parties.
